Movies and music top this year's MEDEA Awards

The 9 finalists for the 2013 Annual MEDEA Awards were announced on 12 November 2013. They are (in alphabetical order): A scuola di genere by Scuola secondaria di I grado - Fucini centrale - Pisa (Italy), Dans les murs de la Casbah... by Université Rennes 2 (France), Deutsch lernen mit Musik - Das Bandtagebuch mit EINSHOCH6 by Deutsche Welle - Abteilung Sprachkurse (Germany), El Viaje Inesperado. Radioteatro como soporte formativo para personas con discapacidad intelectual by Escuela de Radio TEA FM (Spain), Film English by Uab Idiomes (Spain), Physique à main levée by Université Lille1 (France), Practice Your Music by Practice Your Music Corporation (Spain), The young Musicians of CuxAire by Amandus-Abendroth-Gymnasium (Germany) and WahaTV by Athénée Léonie de Waha (Belgium).

The overall winner will be announced during the MEDEA Awards Ceremony which takes place on Thursday 12th December during the Media & Learning Conference 2013 in Brussels.

This year the competition attracted 342 entries from 37 countries. Those entering could choose between submitting their entry as a production made by a professional company or semi-professional production unit or as one made by teachers, students, learners, parents, professors, individual or organisational representatives in primary education, secondary education, higher education, adult education, vocational education and/or training. This means that there will be two main awards, one for each category and each winner will receive a MEDEA Statuette. There will also be two additional prizes awarded. The first of these is the Special Prize for European Collaboration in the creation of Educational Media 2013, for which 83 submissions were made. The second special prize is for the Educational Media Promoting EU Citizenship. There were 92 submissions in this category.

In addition the Organising Committee also announced 14 entries that are Highly Commended. These are: Anatomie 3D Lyon 1 by Université Lyon 1 (France), Cero en conducta by Cero en conducta (Spain), Chocolat 3b Podcast by Ufficio scolastico di Como (Italy), Dit is Nicolaas Rockox by Royal Museum of Fine Arts Antwerp (Belgium), Doña Ferpecta by Agora Portals International School (Spain), Fracking explained – opportunity or danger by Philipp Dettmer Information Design (Germany), Got Lactase? The Co-evolution of Genes and Culture by Howard Hughes Medical Institute (USA), Mental Health: The Basics by VEA (Australia), Planet Maths by Folens Publishers (Ireland), Proyecto Happy by Universidad de Lleida (Spain) The Anti-Social Network by Eastlands Primary School (UK), The Day the Mesozoic Died by Howard Hughes Medical Institute (USA), U4Energy-U4Europe by Liceul Teoretic Emil Racovita (Romania), and Wikiduca by Wikiduca (Spain).

All the finalists as well as those who are highly commended will be added to the MEDEA Awards' media gallery of showcases highlighting excellence in the use of media to support teaching and learning.

The finalists were chosen by a jury made up of 118 education and media experts from 28 countries who evaluated the MEDEA entries in October. All finalists will attend the awards ceremony on Thursday, 12th December which is a highlight of the Media & Learning Conference and presentations by each of the finalists will be included in the conference programme.
